SCHOOL OF DENTAL AND ORAL SURGERY
Office of the Dean

630 West 168th Street

May 14, 1980

Dear Members of the Class of 1980:

Graduation is a time to reflect on the past and think about the future. You are now completing the long and difficult process of a professional education. There have been times when the going was rough and you've thought to yourself - Is it all worth it? It will be worth all of your efforts because your degree permits you to assume both the responsibilities and benefits of a professional life. You are well prepared to discharge your responsibilities with a caring attitude and you will find that if you adopt such an attitude great benefits will accrue to you as individuals.

In going out to join the profession the problems you will face will be complex and difficult ones. The challenge to you is to solve the problems with an analytic approach, and one that takes into account the concerns of others. You have demonstrated to me and the faculty through your successful completion of our curriculum that you have the intellect to adopt an analytic approach to problem solving. In my personal contacts with you, you have also demonstrated your willingness to understand the other person's point of view and needs. These traits, intellect and concern for others, will not only help you to serve others, but will enable you to fulfill yourselves as individuals through your profession.

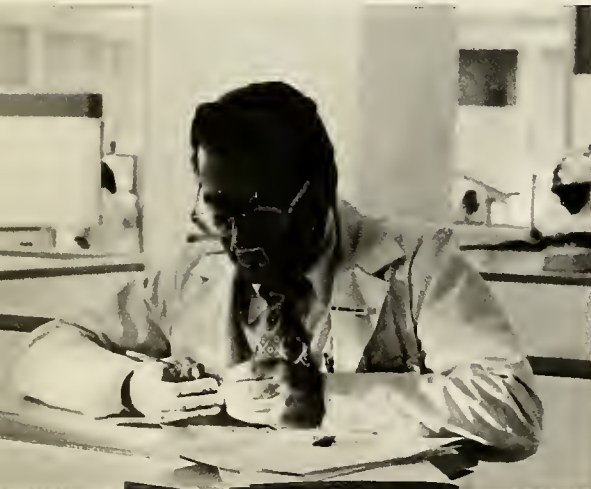

The Faculty of the School of Dental and Oral Surgery is proud of your past accomplishments and looks to your future leadership in our profession. We will always be here for guidance and assistance. We also look forward to learning from you. We wish you success and happiness in all of your future endeavors.

Sincerely yours,

Allan J. Formicola, D.D.S.
Dean

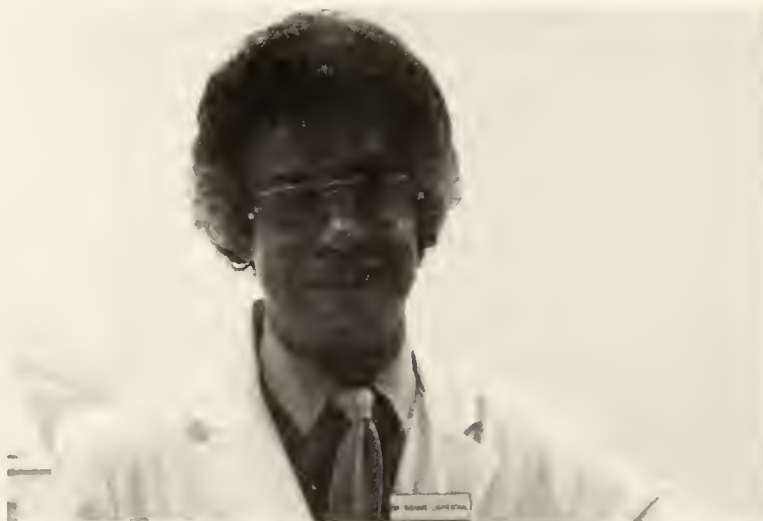

In this memorable year of 1980, the advent of a new decade and a year dominated by such memorable events as the Olympics, the Class of 1980 wishes to recognize three of our own "gold medalists" who in our judgement have shored with us their expertise, knowledge, experience and composure in making our long hours of training here at Columbo more fulfilling, satisfying and pleasing.

Somewhere amidst our clinical hours of training, almost all of us have had the opportunity to work under the watchful eye of the endodontic department's most illustrious figure, Dr. Irving Fried. The seniors of the Class of 1980 wish to acknowledge Dr. Fried for his quality of instruction, and natural ability to relate to students. His methods are Socratic - he cross examines our motives and procedures, answers questions with more questions, and quizzes our diagnostic abilities. His efforts force one to think, making our clinical experiences exercises in learning. His standards are uncompromising, and demand excellent work. Dr. Fried, senior member of several endodontic dynamic duos, exhibits outstanding rapport with his students. He somehow manages to participate in our gatherings and social events. His popularity can be attested by the large crowd of fans surrounding him at any party. We thank Dr. Fried, the roll, cosmopolitan world traveller, for being an inquisitor of the best sort - and for his own inimitable way of making endodontics a pleasure.

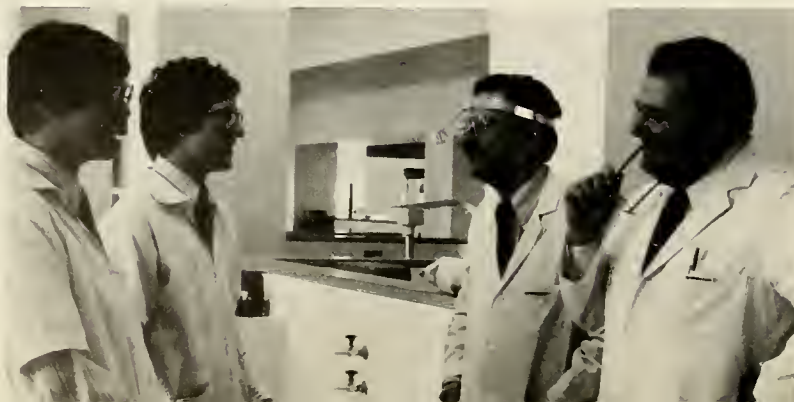

Students have praised Dr. Jerome Zone in the past, and this year the eighth floor thanks him once again. This occasion is special for us, in that only through our times spent with Dr. Zone can we thank him truthfully. No doubt, the fastest man in the world, Dr. Zone gives his all to students needing assistance. From the opening bell he is constantly on the move, answering questions and sitting in constantly rolling chairs. His primary concern is our education, and his enthusiasm and care only serve to make things that much easier. In Dr. Zone's helpful advice, can be seen both the dedicated faculty member and professional. The patient's best interest is primary. At the end of a typical day, Dr. Zone leaves a bit tired as he checks that everyone has been seen and assisted. We thank him for all his time and energy, without which we would not have learned or accomplished as much.

The pleasure of doing operative on Fridays on the seventh floor can be attributed to Dr. Richard Lichtenthal. He is an instructor with a realistic approach to dentistry, who takes an active interest in the student, the student's work, and the patient. He always seems to have time for everyone - never will he turn you away if you are in need of help. There are no long lines following or waiting for Dr. Lichtenthal. He knows all his students and somehow finds the time to see all of us, even when he is the only instructor in sight. In passing, he will stop to ask if all goes well or if help is needed. One can then understand why Dr. Lichtenthal has time to teach, run a thriving practice and be such an active member of the alumni - a true indication of his interest and devotion to our alma mater. There is a certain "class" that dominates his warm personality, friendly disposition, and sense of humor. Dr. Richard Lichtenthal, the "Pierre Cardin" of the operative department, has the endearing quality of dealing with the profession of dentistry on a human level. He is one of the few instructors, who in his honest and realistic criticism will also find room for some much needed positive reinforcement - a quality that shows his concern for instilling within us a sense of self-confidence. The seniors of the seventh floor wish to recognize Dr. Lichtenthal for his excellence as educator, dentist, alumnus, and human being. Thank you for relating to us as true colleagues and friends.

To my parents & family : Thank you for your endless support and love. I could not have done it without you.

To my friends : Thank you, Laura & Jim, for being there during the worst and best times. To my classmates: I thank you for sharing your jokes, cares, wine, aspirations, disappointments, songs ("White Christmas," anyone?), and bar changers.

To the faculty: To those I don't mention by name I apologize; but, I thank all of you for your dedication and help.

Virginia : Thank you for sharing your guidance, knowledge, and artistry with me; and, most importantly for teaching me that I chose the correct profession. Oh, by the way, you can call me Barbara.

Dr. Gottsegen: Thanks for caring about my future.

John Kosinski: Thanks for coming to the rescue.

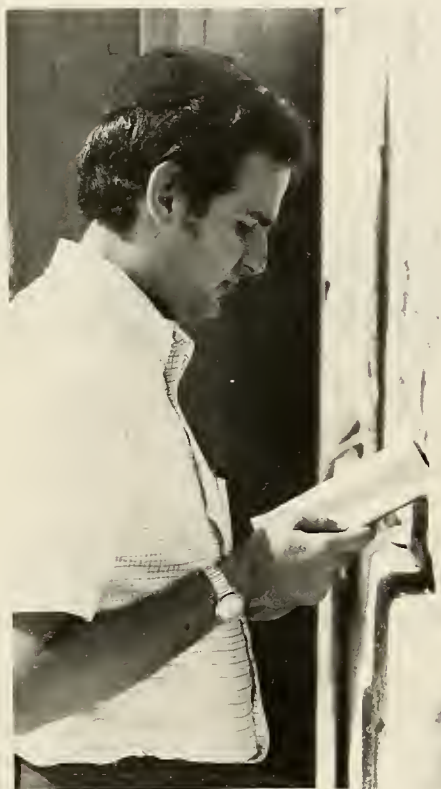

To the Prosthetic Department : I sincerely thank you all for everything.

I wish health, happiness and success to all,

It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or where the doer of deeds could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement; and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly; so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

Keeping Things Whole

In a field
I am the absence of field.
This is always the case.
Wherever I am
I am what is missing.

When I walk
I part the air and always the air moves in to fill the spaces
where my body's been.

We all have reasons
for moving.
I move
to keep things whole.

"What is REAL?" asked the Rabbit one day. "Does it mean having things that buzz inside you?"

"Real isn't how you are made," said the Skin Horse. "It's a thing that happens to you. When a child loves you for a long time, not just to play with, but REALLY loves you, then you become Real."

"Does it hurt?" asked the Rabbit.

"Sometimes," said the Skin Horse, for he was always truthful. "When you are Real you don't mind being hurt."

"Does it happen all at once, like being wound up," he asked, "or bit by bit?"

"It doesn't happen all at once," said the Skin Horse. "You become. It takes a long time. That's why it doesn't often happen to people who break easily, or have sharp edges, or who have to be carefully kept...Once you are Real you can't be ugly, except to people who don't understand."

"...Once you are Real you can't become unreal again. It lasts for always."

Nobody ever looked at a beautiful smile
one tooth at a time.

That's why the blend selector for Trubyte® Bioblend®
Teeth looks like this.

When you select color for a Trubyte Bioblend restoration you see at a glance the combined effect of central, lateral and cuspid. And you can visualize the patient's smile in relation to eye color, hair color and complexion. *Harmony of color...*attainable the first time, time after time.

Graduating is more than relief at the end of years of hard work. It is daily practice and cash flow and all the situations that arise out of the financial side of dentistry.

GHI insures millions of people in New York — both City and State — for dental care. Some of them will be your patients. More of them will be your patients if you participate in GHI. Would you rather we pay you or your patient?

When deciding whether to participate in GHI, bear in mind that we pay Participants directly.

Join GHI, won't you?
